GENERAL INFORMATION – THE DIOCESAN CENTRE

Location

The Diocesan Centre is located in the heart of downtown Kingston at 90 Johnson Street, at the corner of Johnson and Wellington Streets. There are three free parking spots available at the back of the building clearly labelled, for visitors to the Centre and The Church Bookroom, and the parking lot is accessible by an entry point from Johnson Street. During business hours, you may enter the building by way of the blue doors on Johnson Street, or via the Wellington Street entrance of The Church Bookroom. Outside of business hours, you may ring the bell outside the secured entry from the parking lot and a member of the Diocesan Centre staff will let you in.

There are meeting spaces available at the Diocesan Centre for use by congregations and diocesan groups: The Boardroom, which can comfortably accommodate up to twenty people in several different seating formats, the Archives Reading Room, which can also be made available and can seat up to eight people, as well as the Reception Room, which can seat up to twelve in a more relaxed, living room style setting. Also available for reservation on a first-come first-served basis are two LCD projectors as well as a laptop computer. For room bookings and to reserve equipment please contact Lisa Russell at x 121.
