

My husband and i are longtime members of St. Paul's Anglican Church in Cardinal Ont. I have been putting off writing about this subject of same sex marriage. As a Christian who reads the Bible and has been a member of the Anglican Church since 1966, and the treasurer for our Church, I feel I have to speak my mind.

I know the bible tells us to love our enemies, but it nowhere says that marriage is a union between two persons of the same sex. I do not agree in the direction we are going and as a result we will lose more and more good ministers. I do feel that our Ministers should not have to go against their principals and beliefs if they feel they cannot marry same sex couples. Surely there would be a minister in the diocese who could perform the union, if it passes at synod, there would have to be a majority who voted yes.

My Husband and I will have some soul searching to do ourselves, if this passes. We go south in the winter months and attend a wonderful little church in Florida who goes by the Bible teaching. Catholic Anglican Church.

Thank you for letting us have our say.
